

Arrow's Graduate Program

July 2022

Natural gas needs natural talent

Arrow has a vision to be the most competitive and respected developer of unconventional gas value chains in Australia. We recruit talented and motivated people who are passionate about joining our journey.

About the Graduate Program

Arrow's graduate program will include tailored Individual Development Plans combining formal structured training, life skills and on-the-job practical experience.

Why Arrow?

Working with Arrow provides the opportunity to be engaged in meaningful work that contributes to the future of our company, our industry and our communities.

Safety is our highest priority, and our values – respect, lead, own, solve and integrate – underpin everything we do.

We believe a diverse and inclusive workplace, where people can bring their whole selves to work, is key to creating a culture where people thrive which is critical to our collective success. At Arrow, everyone belongs.

We strongly encourage diverse candidates to apply, including women, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, people from multicultural backgrounds, people with disabilities and people from the LGBTIQ+ community.

We offer competitive remuneration and employee benefits, and the opportunity to sharpen your talents by learning from expert professionals and quality training programs.
